Online File Storage - 01/05/2013
 Storegate Online Storage Review
 Storegate is one of the most feature-rich online file storage services on the market right now. The service is a little on the expensive side though, which might turn off casual computer users.

Programme Overview

Compare Cloudware operates a partner programme to accommodate all cloud providers on the platform.

The programme is open to software-as-a-service, hosted software and cloud services providers who are looking to build their business with contemporary digital channels to market. There are two tiers to the programme, dependent on the level of lead visibility, on-site promotion, performance reporting and member marketing required.

Both levels of partner benefit from a unique sales channel:

- Always-on – providing 24x7x365 opportunity, unlike traditional channels
- Automated – with efficient and streamlined workflows
- As-you-go – delivering performance-based demand generation
- Active buyers – appealing to ‘in-mode’ buyers who are in the market for purchase
- Accountable – providing a high level of lead transparency

How do partners use Compare Cloudware?

Partners typically use the platform in a couple of different ways:

- A new digital channel partner. Cloud providers can use Compare Cloudware as a contemporary addition to their routes to market, driving leads for the business to service themselves (direct model). This works well for brands which have a direct sales team but want to expand their reach and increase their sales funnel.
- A new way to drive leads for partners. Cloud providers can use Compare Cloudware to generate leads to pass to their traditional channel partners. This can work well for organisations that are looking to motivate existing sales channels with additional SMB opportunities.

Strategic Partner

Compare Cloudware Strategic Partner status gives cloud providers a greater profile and representation across the platform.

Strategic Partners can choose the marketing package that best suits their requirements around lead visibility and frequency of performance reporting. Additionally, this partner level provides enhanced exposure offered through member marketing and social communications.

- Year long marketing partnership
- Site-wide exposure
- Performance reporting
- Minimal resources required (marketing-as-a-service)
- Improved access to in-mode buyers
- Premium content
- Lower daily cost than Google Ads, SEO and PR

We'd be happy to do a personalised Strategic Partner presentation, once you've been approved as a Business Partner.
